

Citi Handlowy plans to extend its cooperation with PCTA for the next 3 years

Citi Handlowy, a long-term partner of the PCTA (Polish Corporate Treasurers Association) Macroeconomic Forecast Competition, plans to extend this cooperation for the next three years.

The association brings together treasurers representing companies from our key corporate segments.

This year's competition began in February. As a result, analysts are selected who will most accurately predict key economic indicators. Participants are tasked with presenting their quarterly forecasts on inflation, interest rates, GDP, and exchange rates.

The cooperation between Citi Handlowy and PCTA also includes participation in conferences, trainings, workshops and mutual exchange of knowledge. In June, Piotr Kalisz, Chief Economist at Citi Handlowy, presented his analysis of the current economic situation to the participants of the macroeconomic webinar and Citi Handlowy's flagship Hedge Game workshop dedicated to Members was held, during which participants learned how to manage other things, exchange rate and interest rate risk through the use of option instruments and strategies.
